General

This month was marked by the arrest of 8 traffickers during three different operations.

4 traffickers were arrested in Santchou, West Region with an ivory tusk, elephant bones and pangolin scales. The four who arrived on bikes with bags of contraband were arrested as they were just about to illegally sell the products. One of the traffickers had been on the run and was a major target for arrest by the Santchou wildlife reserve conservator.

During the second operation of the month, a trafficker was arrested in Bertoua, East Region with 7 ivory tusks and hippo teeth. He had travelled from the North with the products that was concealed in a truck ferrying cattle to the East region to sell the contraband. He bought the ivory in Ngong where a thriving black market for ivory exists, located some 45km from Garoua,.

3 traffickers arrested with 35kg of pangolin scales in Doume in the East Region. They buy pangolin scales from surrounding villages and sell to other traffickers in big commercial centres of Yaounde and Douala. One of the traffickers escaped during the operation but was later arrested as he tried to recover his motorbike he left behind when escaping. The bike was impounded when he escaped.

The deputy director held a meeting at the US Embassy with an official from the International Narcotics and Law Enforcement of the US State Department who was on a working visit to the country.

Operation

3 operations carried out this month with MINFOF arresting 8 traffickers.

4/5/2018 - During the first operation, four traffickers were arrested with an ivory tusk, pangolin scales, elephant bones in Santchou, West Region. 4 traffickers were arrested with an ivory tusk, pangolin scales and elephant bones. They transported the contraband using motorbikes as is generally the case with traffickers, who use this means of transport that is very flexible and easy to use for escape when threatened. They were arrested shortly after they began negotiations to sell the products some of which originated from the nearby Santchou wildlife reserve. The reserve is being depleted of its wildlife resources and is in a very bad state. One of the traffickers was already known to the conservator of the reserve as a major target for arrest. He was very alert and attempted to escape when he realized the team was moving in for the operation.

23/5/2018 – A trafficker arrested in Bertoua, East Region with 4 ivory tusks and 3 hippo teeth. He attempted to move the ivory and hippo teeth from its hideout when he was arrested. He transported the contraband hidden inside a truck transporting cattle from the North where he bought the ivory to East of the country and was just about to move the products for trafficking. The operation uncovers a trafficking route that moves in the opposite direction to that generally used by ivory traffickers. Normally, they would move ivory from the South and East regions to the North where it is smuggled across to Nigeria that has not yet put in place strong wildlife law enforcement measures. The ivory this time around was moved in the opposite direction, from the North to the East. The trafficker also dealt in leopard and lion skins as well.

30/5/2018 - 3 traffickers were arrested in Doume, East Region with 35kg of pangolin scales. The arrest was done in two phases. During the first phase, two of the three suspects were arrested with a bag containing the pangolin scales and were taken to the gendarmerie brigade alongside two bikes the traffickers had used for transporting the contraband. During the operation, as the two were being arrested, the third trafficker escaped leaving behind his bike. When he realized that the bike had been impounded and taken to the gendarmerie brigade, he came back to the brigade to bribe for the release of the bike and was gratefully arrested. The traffickers buy the scales from smaller traffickers in villages around Doume and sell to bigger traffickers in some commercial centres including Yaounde and Douala.

Activism Front:

Ted talk video: The skill of self confidence

While many think talent is the most important thing to have in athleticism, Dr. Ivan Joseph, a professional coach thinks self-confidence is and primordial in not only athleticism but our lives. This short video on Ted Talk takes us through how important is self confidence in achieving great successes and how it dictates whether we become successful in our goals and lives. The presentation that was done in the English language was briefly summarized in French by the deputy director who explained in greater details some of the things presented by the Ted Talk guest of the day. The talk was very explanatory and was seen very much as an advice that didn't necessitate much ado and analysis.
